

The High School students of Western Greece, propose ways to overcome the crisis

The Ministry of National Education and Religious Affairs in cooperation with the Regional Directorate of Primary and Secondary Education in Western Greece (Department of Scientific and Pedagogical Guidance) and University of Patras, Department of Business Administration, held a contest for Students of A' and B' class of High Schools concerning writing an article for the Greek economic crisis.

Six students were awarded and presented their essay on the Ceremonial Hall (“Odysseas Elytis”) of University of Patras, on February 6th 2014.

The students are: Skampardoni Anastasia, Kalavrouziotis Constantinos, Pappas Leonidas (A' Class), Kavouras Marios, Triantrafylloupoulou Georgia and Zorba Kalliope (B' Class).

The students determined and identified the causes of the crisis and offered interesting solutions beyond the financial numbers and technocratic approaches.

Professor and Chairman of the Department of Business Administration Costas Siriopoulos, the School Director Economists of Region of Western Greece, Mr Gerasimos Pomonis and the awarded students.